Foreword

As the students of Blackford High pass through their freshman, sophomore, junior and senior years, we see their gradual rise from adolescence to adulthood.

When they enter Blackford as freshmen, their studies and activities are much like the basic architectural materials of a building. They possess these materials with which to work to form a foundation for their future.

The sophomores, after their trying years as freshmen, are rather like a partially completed building, one whose structure is becoming distinct but is not yet perfected.

Students in their junior year begin to think of the future. They are like a building that shows promise of being a masterpiece when finished.

The seniors, like a completed structure built through a long process, are hopefully ready to withstand anything they may encounter.

Dedication

We, the Saga staff of 1965, dedicate this yearbook to a person whose wise council has guided four classes at Blackford.

Margaret Couch was an English teacher and part time sophomore counselor the first year Blackford opened. In 1962 she became junior counselor. In this position Mrs. Couch helps manage the junior magazine sale. She spends much of her time with the students planning the junior prom. Another huge job she does is giving the achievement tests and administering the preparatory college board examinations. Mrs. Couch finishes up her hectic year with the scheduling of students for their senior year.

Students know her by her friendly smile and cheerful greeting. They know her office is always open for help. It is to this remarkable person that we dedicate this yearbook.

Mr. Romer's Message

My congratulations to the members of the senior class of 1965. As the first class to complete four years of education at Blackford High School, you are in the spotlight for more than one reason. You have had four year to represent the school, to influence the customs, and to contribute to the establishment of a fine reputation for Blackford High School. Now you will continue to be looked upon in a special way as you venture into advanced education or the world of business.

On behalf of the staff and faculty of Blackford High School, I extend to you our best wishes for a happy and successful future.

Metin Culhaoglu

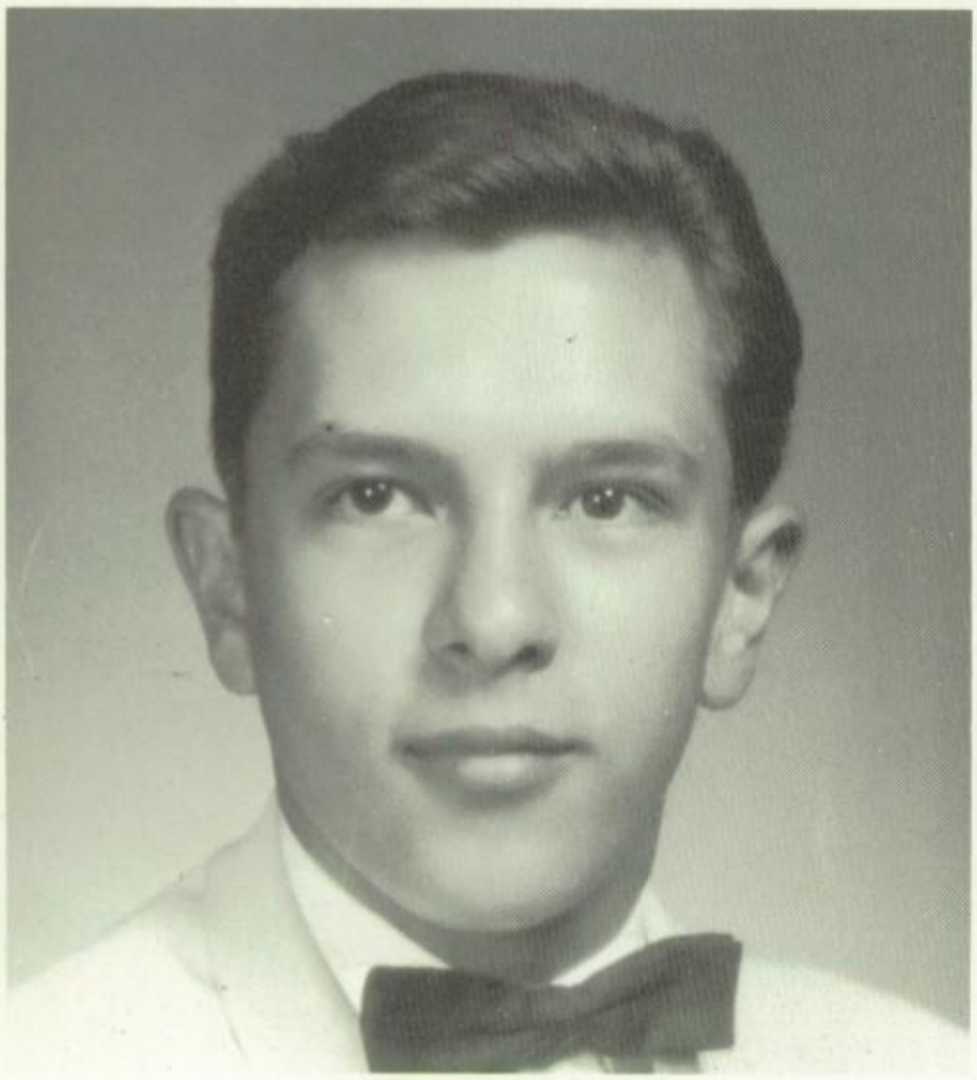
Our Foreign Exchange Student From Turkey



At the beginning of the school, being a foreign exchange student, I felt myself as a new baby who just opened his eyes to a new life, and I still think it was right. I knew almost nobody. I was anxious to do things wrong and to disappoint the people. Then I realized that everybody, whom I met, was friendly and kind. Now I can tell everybody in my country that the Americans are friendly people and one can get along with them easily. I also admired Blackford's kind and helpful teachers who helped me so much during the year.

During the time I spent in Blackford I learned many interesting parts of the American school life, like dances, student government and activities which did not know before.

Now I would like to thank Mrs. Gillette, Mr. Romer, teachers and students who made me like Blackford. I say good-bye with hoping to visit you again and I also expect you to come Turkey someday.

SEASON'S RECORD: 4-4-1

The Braves, picked to finish last in the West Valley Athletic League, began their season with a surprise 7-0 shutout over the Palo Alto Vikings. A runback of a Palo Alto fumble by Ron Focht brought 85 yards and a score.

Blackford was solidly trounced by the St. Francis Lancers 27-0 in a night game on the Lancers' own field. The Braves' two scoring opportunities were erased by a fine Lancer defense.

Campbell led the Braves 12-0 at halftime in the first league encounter for Blackford. The second half showing by the Braves included two touchdowns and a conversion kicked by Chuck Peterson to provide the win.

Westmont managed a score against the Braves in the second league game, but Brave place kicker Chuck Peterson again provided the winning tally for a 7-6 win.

The Braves battled Camden to a 14-19 deficit in the fourth quarter and were driving to another touchdown when a 15 yard penalty and a fumbled ball combined to give Camden an easy fourth touchdown for the win.

The Los Gatos game was to be the last in quarterback Dan Jackson's high school career, and the Braves became fired up for a 14-0 win over the Wildcats. A Dan Jackson pass to halfback Jeff Miller brought 35 yards and the first Brave touchdown. A pitchback from Bill Dunham to Jackson provided the second tally. The Brave defense sparkled throughout the game.

The Braves were never to win again without Dan Jackson and were first set back by the Leigh Longhorns on a wet field 30-6. The Braves rallied to within 6 points of the Longhorns in the third quarter, but their hopes were wiped out when Brave Larry Kelly dropped a Steve Terry pass in the Longhorns' end zone. Steve Terry completed 14 out of 31 passes but the Braves could not pull the game out of the fire.

Del Mar managed to tie the Braves 14-14, capitalizing on Blackford's errors. Steve Terry hit halfback Jeff Miller for the first score and set up a second tally via a 45 yard pass play to end Jim Fieldman. Bill Dunham brought the ball over for a score.

A stirring pre-game speech by Coach George Pesut wasn't enough on Thanksgiving Day as the Saratoga Falcons wiped the Braves 46-7. Without ace Brave fullback Bill Dunham, who was hurt in the first quarter and stayed out the remainder of the game, the Braves couldn't manage more than one touchdown.

Braves fans remained loyal throughout the season.

John Bellante carries the ball against Saratoga.
